and still mistist that the old man's soul goes marching on. The chief attraction at Lawrence now is the session of the NATIONAL TEMPERANCE SOCIETY, whose meetings are being held at Bismarck Grove, a beautiful park owned by the Kansas Pacific Railroad Company. The ground was formerly patented to Rock-a-too-wa, one of the Chiefs of the Delaware Indians. It was sold by him to Senator Vinn, Linn and others, as I am informed, and finally passed into the hands of the K. P. Road. Spending of the census exhibit at the Centennial reminds me forcibly of the similarity of enterprise exhibited by Kansas people at this temperance gathering. Every thing that human foresight could have directed, to make the meetings pleasant, profitable and interesting, has been done. No half-way work was allowed, and when money was wanted, it was poured right into their pockets and rent rate of wages in most of our New England cities and large towns. Like them, New Haven is a large manufacturing place in proportion to the population, and the pay of the laboring element is a factor of as high a sort to be of decided importance. The omission of certain years in the absence of reliable statistics for the same. One curious circumstance disclosed in the table is worth the attention of all laboring men. In 1801, the war year, the average carpenter's pay was one dollar and seventy-five cents per day. Immediately after inflation began to roll upon the currency exhibit at the Centennial reminds me so that most of the latter involving nearly the whole cost of a mechanic's living, was about double, and yet it was not till March, 1864, that the daily pay of the same mechanic rose more than 25 cents above his daily pay in the table, as recorded for March, 1801. This was recorded for March, 1801. This was recorded for March, 1801.

Thus it serves as food rather than stimulant.

The above plan of treatment is mainly expectant, and is to be supplemented by the judicious use of medicine as they may arise. Extreme restlessness might justify the use of chloral by enema; but opium should never be resorted to after the first twelve hours. Severe headache with strong pulse, in a robust subject, would justify local blood-letting at an early stage. On the occurrence of black vomit, such hemiostatics as ergot, subnitrate of iron and gallic acid may be exhibited.

Many physicians, myself included, are in favor of giving 20 to 30 grains of quinine (with the addition of 20 to 30 drops of laudanum or Batley's sedative) at the very beginning of the fever, in two doses, at four hours' intervals, with the view of mitigating the neuralgic symptoms and promoting perspiration. This medication promotes quiet respiration, quick

TO LICENSE A CRIME FOR MONEY. His own town of Olathe sends the camp meeting a glebe club of hundreds of votes, (making the finest choir to which I ever had the pleasure of listening to), who are every one temperance men and women. Just what majority Col. St. John will receive over his competitor is not now ascertainable; but that he will carry with him much more than the party vote is generally admitted. He has stumped the State for temperance, and the people intend to reward him for it. The CAMP MEETING opened on the 30th of August and will continue in session 10 September 10th. Thousands of people are present every day, and active temperance work is being done. Splendid speakers, both male and female, from various States of the Union, are constantly employed; and men, women and children by the score rush to the President Hayes was expected to be present, but will not be able to come. Many distinguished orators and statesmen, however, will be present before the meetings close. The affair is a success. THE CROPS

 In Kansas this year are simply bewildering. Everything produced on a farm is here in such luxuriant abundance that there will be trouble to ship it. Blessed as the State is with abundant means of easy and cheap transportation, it will still tax all the resources in that way to their utmost limit to convey her surplus products to Eastern markets. And now, for the benefit of your male readers, allow me to speak briefly of
THE LADIES OF KANSAS.
 This may be a delicate subject for an old prophesy; if it you were here it would be yours also.
